National Consortium for Languages Education
Languages - defining today, transforming tomorrow

Remembrance Day in Languages

Discover new resources designed by specialist teacher Eleanor Chettle-Cully in collaboration with NCLE for Remembrance Day and peace education in languages

The intercultural dimension and peace education

Peace education and interculturality are deeply interconnected because both promote empathy, dialogue, respect for diversity, and the ability to understand multiple perspectives across cultural and linguistic boundaries. In the languages classroom, intercultural encounters become opportunities for peacebuilding, helping learners challenge stereotypes, engage critically with differences and similarities, and develop the skills needed to contribute to more inclusive and harmonious societies.

Follow this link for a PPT and printable handouts to use in your classroom:

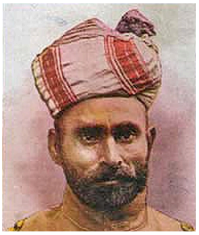

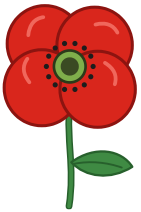

CLASSROOM RESOURCE

Languages, remembrance and peace

Discover the stories of soldiers and nurses from around the world who served during the First World War. Through an Identity dialogue card activity, pupils can develop their speaking skills, intercultural understanding, empathy, and a deeper appreciation of peace. Includes a core slide deck, printable resources and a home learning sheet with text both in English and French.

https://tinyurl.com/RemembranceNCLEppt

Funded by: Department for Education
Delivered by: UCL Institute of Education
In partnership with: BRITISH COUNCIL
In partnership with: GOETHE INSTITUT

© NCLE 2026

National Consortium for Languages Education

Languages - defining today, transforming tomorrow

Here are links to our Language Educators Online (LEO) free CPD platform with dedicated content to explore the intercultural dimension and peace education.

You'll need to log in or create your free account, then you can click straight through.

INTERCULTURAL DIMENSION · UNIT 8

Link to the Intercultural Dimension in the Elaborate course, unit 8 : Exploring change and loss

This is a unit focussing on embedding Ukrainian cultural elements to help teachers make their Ukrainian pupils feel seen, valued and represented in the lesson content.

https://www.ncle.uk/mod/page/view.php?id=3616

INTERCULTURAL DIMENSION · UNIT 6

Link to the Intercultural Dimension in the Elaborate course, unit 6 : Supporting intercultural interaction

This is a unit drawing on Japanese cultural elements with a focus on the story of Sadako and her paper cranes to encourage teachers to turn their classroom into a 'space of otherwise'.

https://www.ncle.uk/mod/page/view.php?id=3617

CPD, Language Networks and National Priority Projects. Find out what NCLE can do for you and join the national community of practice: https://ncle.ucl.ac.uk/

Funded by: Department for Education

Delivered by: UCL Institute of Education

In partnership with: BRITISH COUNCIL

In partnership with: GOETHE INSTITUT

© NCLE 2026